

WHAT IS METAPHILOSOPHY?

7 – 9 September 2022

EBS University for Business and Law, Oestrich-Winkel
and online via Zoom

Organized by Richard Raatzsch and Michael Lewin

Thomas Arnold
Anna-Maria Eder
Fausto Fraisopi
Joachim Horvath
Paul Hoyningen-Huene
Insa Lawler

Michael Lewin
Daniel Minkin
Richard Raatzsch
Nicholas Rescher
Jelscha Schmid
Timothy Williamson

Register via
michael.lewin.di@gmail.com

September 7, 2022

14:45 Greetings and Introduction

15:00 – 16:00 Nicholas Rescher (University of Pittsburgh) Positioning Metaphilosophy

16:00 – 17:00 Jelscha Schmid (University of Basel) Metaphilosophy as First Philosophy: from Kant to Fichte

17:00 – 18:00 Richard Raatzsch (EBS University for Business and Law) How Weird is Philosophizing!

September 8, 2022

10:00 – 11:00 Fausto Fraisopi (University of Freiburg) Metaphilosophy: Doctrine, Threshold or Dimension?

11:00 – 12:00 Joachim Horvath (Ruhr University Bochum) Thought Experiments and Arguments

14:00 – 15:00 Anna-Maria Eder (TU Dresden / University of Cologne) Idealizations in Epistemology

15:00 – 16:00 Insa Lawler (University of North Carolina), in cooperation with Finnur Dellsén und James Norton (University of Iceland) Would Disagreement Undermine Progress?

16:00 – 17:00 Paul Hoyningen-Huene (Leibniz University Hannover / University of Zurich) In Which Sense is Philosophy Scientific?

September 9, 2022

10:00 – 11:00 Thomas Arnold (Heidelberg University) Socratic Shifts. Notes on Plato's Metaphilosophy

11:00 – 12:00 Michael Lewin (University of Koblenz and Landau) Metaphilosophy as a Unified Discipline

14:00 – 15:00 Daniel Minkin (University of Marburg) Metaphilosophical Skepticism: A (New) Threat to Philosophy as a Rational Enterprise?

15:00 – 16:00 Timothy Williamson (University of Oxford) Reflecting on One's Own Philosophical Practice